Smiths High Performance is a leading stockholder and supplier of high performance engineering materials to high technology industries such as motor sport and aerospace. Choose from a wide variety of commercial and speciality alloys and benefit from complete supply solutions including full inventory and logistics management. When you purchase high performance materials from Smiths High Performance you will be joining some of the biggest and best world class engineering companies from civil aviation, through to marine and Formula 1 motorsport.

BYTEST was established in 1986. It specialises in material testing and boasts a staff with proven, sector-specific experience. Today, the company has become an international point of reference.

Non destructive testing, material testing, controls, monitoring, training, system design and construction, competence, experience, organisation and flexibility all make BYTEST the ideal partner.

THE SWEDISH MOTORSPORT INDUSTRY BECOMES MOTORSPORT EXPOTECH'S INTERNATIONAL PARTNER

The Swedish Motorsport Industry supports and promotes Scandinavian motorsport companies at an international level.

The aim of the association is to promote international ties for Swedish and Norwegian companies, establishing partnerships with governments, universities, consortia and companies from the sector.

Some of its over 50 members include:

Bilsport & MC Specialförsäkringar
Ovako Steel
Saab Automobile AB
Uddeholm Tooling AB

Tony Ring - the Ferrari Challenge pilot and renowned Scandinavian motorsport TV commentator - is the association's CEO and will head its mission with the objective of strengthening the commercial links between Italy and Scandinavia.

The Swedish Motorsport Industry mission will be located at the International Business Area and will meet interested exhibitors by appointment.
